More and more employers use the web to advertise their job openings, share company information and provide access to online applications.

To find job leads and information, you should also search under the names of companies you may be interested in working for.

Free access to the internet can be found at the Chatham-Kent Employment Resource Centres and also all branches of the Chatham-Kent Libraries (www.chatham-kent.ca/library). Workshops for job seekers are also offered periodically. Ask staff for help or more information.
