

Legal- Amusement Devices and Rides

Amusement Devices are regulated by the Technical Standards & Safety Authority Act (TSSA)

If the event involves the use of amusement devices / rides (anything that entertains people by moving them or causing them to be moved) the following MUST accompany The Application
Note: The TSSA is accountable to the Ontario Government.

- TSSA Operator License – all operators of amusement devices and rides in Ontario must hold a current Ontario Licence to carry on the Business of Operating Amusement Devices. You must provide a copy of the Ontario Amusement Device Permit for the current year from the company providing your amusement rides;
- TSSA Permit for each device, which displays a TSSA Inspector's identification, date and signature and confirms the device has been inspected by TSSA for the current operating season;
- Separate from the event organizer's certificate of insurance to host the event, an additional Certificate of Insurance from the operator in an amount not less than two million dollars with Municipality of Chatham-Kent named as an additional insured on the policy for the days of the event; and
- Map of Sketch (below) detailing the location of the rides on the property.
