WHAT IF I DON'T PASS MY INSPECTIONS?

If deficiencies are found during the inspection, inspectors will provide you a written list of them. It is up to you to correct the issues and book the inspection(s) again. Do not apply for or book inspections if you are not ready for them.

Individual departments or divisions may charge for re-inspection. If you do not pass your inspections, or have questions about something on the list, talk to the inspector directly. They will help you understand how to fix the problem. A Municipal Business Licence will not be issued until all inspections are approved by the required departments.

HOW LONG ARE LICENCES VALID FOR?

Municipal Business Licences are valid for one year, from date of issuance. There are exceptions to this; Mobile Food Premises, and Vehicle for Hire licences renew every year in May. Bunk House licences have an annual renewal of March. Business Licence fees for Mobile Food Premises, Vehicle for Hire licences, and Bunk House licences may be prorated depending on application date, however they are issued based on inspection approvals – if applicable. The Municipality of Chatham-Kent will send renewal reminders by mail – as a courtesy – approximately 45 days prior to licence expiry. It is the licence holder's responsibility to ensure that the licence is valid and up to date whether you receive the reminder or not.
